Harbor Target Retirement 2055 Fund

INVESTMENT APPROACH

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVE:

The Fund seeks to provide capital appreciation and current income consistent with the Fund's current asset allocation.

PHILOSOPHY: The Fund is intended for investors planning to retire in or within a few years of 2055 (the target year), and assumes a retirement age of 65.

INVESTMENT RISKS: The performance and risks of the Fund correspond directly to the performance and risks of the underlying Harbor funds in which the Fund invests. The Fund has partial exposure to the risks of many different market sectors and asset classes, any of which could cause an investor to lose money. The principal risk of the Fund is asset allocation risk, or the risk that the selection of the underlying Harbor funds and the allocation of the Fund's assets to those underlying Harbor funds will cause the Fund to underperform other similar target retirement funds. Other principal risks include selection risk (a subadviser of one of the underlying Harbor funds is incorrect in its judgment regarding the attractiveness, value and potential appreciation of a particular security) and market risk. A fund with significant exposure to equity securities is also subject to risks associated with investing in stocks which may fluctuate in price if affected by issuer-specific events and movements in the overall stock market in which those securities trade. A fund with significant exposure to fixed income securities is also subject to risks associated with investing in fixed income securities which may fluctuate in price in response to changes in interest rates, market conditions and issuer-specific events. A fund with significant exposure to international markets poses special risks including potentially greater price volatility due to social, political and economic factors, as well as currency exchange rate fluctuations.

ASSET ALLOCATION

Over time, the allocation to asset classes and underlying Harbor funds will change in a predetermined manner as shown in the chart. The chart shows the shifting of asset classes over time and illustrates how each Target Retirement Fund's (except Harbor Target Retirement Income Fund) asset mix becomes more conservative as time elapses.

The principal value of the Funds is not guaranteed at any time, including the target retirement date.

INVESTMENT STYLES

The Harbor Target Retirement Funds are constructed based on Harbor Capital Advisors' investment experience that, over the long term, stocks generally provide greater growth opportunities and greater risk than bonds, and bonds generally provide more income and lower volatility than stocks. The year in the fund name refers to the approximate year (the target date) when an investor in the fund would leave the work force and enter retirement and likely stop making new investments in the fund. The Harbor Target Retirement Income Fund is designed for investors currently in retirement. The year-specific Target Retirement Funds strive to produce more income and lower volatility as the target year approaches.

Harbor Capital Advisors allocates each fund's assets among the underlying Harbor funds based on the fund's investment objectives and policies. The asset allocation for each fund (other than the Harbor Target Retirement Income Fund) will change over time as the target date indicated in the fund's name draws closer.
